19th October 2018

Dear Parents/Carers,

At our Post Ofsted meeting on the 3rd October, we said that we would like to utilise the help and support of parents as volunteers in school. I firmly believe that a partnership between home and school is vital and we would love to create a bank of dedicated volunteers.

We would like to do this in two ways, a 'reading buddy' and/or a 'classroom buddy'.

The 'reading buddy' would be a volunteer that could listen to children read and ask them inference questions about the text they have just read.

The 'classroom buddy' would be a volunteer that could help a classroom teacher with administrative tasks, such as photocopying, putting up a display, preparing resources for class activities etc.

Both roles would be a great help to us in school.

The school will fund the cost of an Enhanced DBS check and full training will be provided.

If you have an hour or two to spare each week and are interested in either role, then please could you return the form attached to this letter. Please do not feel that you have to commit every week but any help will be very much appreciated.

Yours sincerely,

Mr Rob Fenton
